Course Content:

Course Outline

The programme will consist of five days of physical mobility, combining educational sessions, interactive workshops and collaborative work dynamics. The methodology will be eminently participatory, student-centred and practice-oriented, allowing the students to take a leading role in defining these models of representation and support.

One of the main outcomes of the programme will be the collaborative development of practical guides and operational tools, co-created by the participants themselves, which can be used by Ulysseus partner universities to implement or improve their ambassador and buddy programmes to integrate these groups in equality respecting their differences within Ulysseus and its welcome services while preserving the particularities of each institution.

The BIP introduces relevant elements of pedagogical innovation:

1. Project-Based Learning
- Students will work on the actual creation of applicable guides, protocols and tools, connecting learning with tangible and useful results for the institution.

2. Co-creation and horizontal and co-responsible learning
- Knowledge will not only be transmitted by experts but will also be generated through collaborative intercultural dynamics. This encourages peer learning and critical thinking.

3. Experiential and intercultural approach
- Simulations, role-playing, practical case studies, participatory dynamics, and analysis of real situations related to mobility, integration, and intercultural communication will be incorporated.

Course content

Main topics addressed:

During the Workshop, different thematic areas will be addressed, including:

- Strategic communication and student representation
- Interculturality, inclusion and community building
- Green mobility and sustainable practices
- Mentoring methodologies and buddy systems
- Leadership, teamwork and cross-cutting skills
- Co-creation of Project management focused on student concerns
- Practical exercises and analysis of real cases
- Global competences

Learning Outcomes

Following this course, students will be able to develop key skills such as:

- Co-creation dynamics
- Cross-cutting skills.
- Intercultural communication
- Collaborative leadership
- Project management notions
- Environmental awareness
- Active European citizenship
- Global Competences
- Citizen Engagement

Expected learning outcomes:

By the end of the training, ambassadors should be able to:

- Represent the university with confidence and consistency.
- Communicate their academic experience in a strategic and persuasive manner.
- Interact effectively with international audiences.

— Lead student initiatives in line with the university's strategy.

Expected outcomes of the Buddies training programme:

By the end of the training, buddies should be able to:

— Effectively facilitate the social and academic integration of new students.

— Build trust and provide practical guidance with empathy.

— Apply intercultural skills and discuss cultural differences respectfully.

— Act as an active support, contributing to the overall well-being of international students.
